Press: Local horsemen are beginning to exercise their stock. Evanston has some good ones, and there is some talk of a track and a fair this fall. An intermountain circuit is talked of, taking in Butte, Ogden, Salt Lake, Provo and other places, and Evanston is just properly located to join this list and have a great race meeting here this year. The members of the George R. Maxwell post, G. A. R., went up to Mt. Olivet cemetery yesterday afternoon and removed the body of their comrade, Robert Ferguson, from the potter's field to the Grand Army plat, where it will rest finally. Trumpeter John A. Smith of troop A. First Missouri cavalry, sounded taps while the coffin was being lowered into the new grave. Mr.

Ferguson died May 4, 1892. A number of the disciples of Eugene V. Debs met in the G. A. R. hall last evening. Joseph Ward presided over the meeting, and A. B. Edler acted as secretary. There was nothing done, however, except to announce that a meeting would be held next Sunday night, at which Mr. Edler will address the labor unions of, the city on the subject of socialism. A new party will be organized, to be styled the Social Democracy. It will be a branch of the Social Democratic party, which has nominated Mr. Debs for President.

The funeral of Mrs. Frances A. Hep-worth, wife of John Hepworth, was worth, who of John Hepworth, was held from the family home, 571 south Main street, yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Newton Brown of Salt Lake college, whose remarks were very high in their praise of the deceased. There was a profusion of beautiful floral of-ferings from members of the family and from friends. There were a number of excellent musical selections by Mes-dames Stevens and Cufton, and Messrs J. Sands and J. P. Keate. Miss Keate sang two very sweet hymns, and Mrs H. L. Green sang at the grave. Mrs. W. Wright, a daughter from San Franson-in-law of Huntington, Oregon.

Great Falls, Montana, Tribune: Residents of Salt Lake who would appear to have more money than brains have taken the contract for carrying the mail daily between Great Falls and Choteau at $1,760 per year. They are to make the trip each way every day except Sunday, via Sunnyside and Sun river. and the distance between Great Falls and Choteau by that route is fifty-five and one-half miles. Montana bidders for the contract offered to take it at about $5,000 per year, but the Salt Lake men thought that they could deliver mails for less than the salaries of the carriers, and it seems very probable that they will run up against a big snag. They have announced their in-tention of sub-letting the contract to local men, and nearly all local men agree that, under the most favorable conditions, the work cannot be done for less than $4,000.

DESERET EVENING NEWS | DISCOURSES AT THE TABERNACLE

Pres. George Q. Cannon Speaks on the Law of Obedience.

APOSTLE YOUNG'S DISCOURSE

on Jesus Christ, but Works Must Go With Faith.

It is Not Sufficient to Merely Believe

The services in the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were presided over by Pres, C. W. Penrose. The choir sang the opening hymn commencing "Zion stands with hills surrounded." The invocation was offered by Elder

are sung of Zion."

Apostle Brigham Young was the first speaker. He said he had been absent for several months in New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona, and was pleased to have the privilege of meeting again with the Saints in the Tabernacle. The Saints should enjoy these meetings from Sabbath to Sabbath, although some may have been favorite speakers, but it is the spirit that giveth life, and when any Elder leaves his testimony it causes the true Latter-day Saint to rejoice. The speaker said that when he was a young man he had wondered what would be the destiny of the 'Mormon' Church, what would be the outcome of the strife and persecution that was being directed against the Saints. A governor of one of the Territories had said ernor of one of the Territories had said to the speaker, during the period of the raid, that the 'Mormon' people would never again be exempt from per-secution, but the speaker assured the governor that the "Mormon" people would rise higher all the time and would yet enjoy greater freedom than they had ever experienced. Elder Young stated that the efforts of the world to overcome the Latter-day world to overcome the Latter-day Saints were futile, that the Saints are a true people at the core, and they cannot be torn to pieces by any external agen-

According to our will so will we labor," men will fashion their lives according to their desires. We must be able to appreciate the gifts that are given to us, and the Latter-day Saints are undergoing a training, a discipline of mind and of body the world knows not of, that is preparing them to live with the Father and the Son. They will be in possession of that Spirit that will make known unto them the Father and the Son. Men must have this Spirit to be able to know Christ, as the Savior had told Peter that flesh and blood had not revealed unto him who Jesus was, but God Himself had revealed it.

The speaker read from the 29th chap-ter of Alma in the Book of Mormon, relating to obedience. He then spoke of the law of tithing, and the blessings that would accrue from obedience to that law. He said that the people were approaching a crisis, a time when they would need additional strength, in-creased faith to give them fortitude to tide over the times that are coming. The "Mormon" Church is not an ordinary body of religious worshippers, but it is an organization under God, es-tablished for the purpose of bringing about great things preparatory to the coming of Christ. The Chuch is not orking, however, to subjugate anybody.

The speaker directed attention to the spirits that seem to take possession of human beings, stating that they do not know what to do with a body when they gain possession of it. They have not been accustomed to the barrier of walls, have never felt fire, etc. and therefore when they gain possession of a body they are irresponsible and are apt to destroy the body. But the Spirit of God operates in no such a fashion, it makes men more intelligent, more responsible; and so fast are the powers of darkness gaining a foothold in the world, that the Saints will have to be in possession of the Spirit of God to successfully combat them.

President George Q. Cannon being the next speaker, said that one chief characteristic of the Latter-day Saints is edience to law, and in this respect they differ very much from the rect of the world. The majority of religious people believe that by merely confess-ing Jesus Christ they will be saved. The Latter-day Saints believe in Christ as ardently as any body of religious people, but they go further than that, they think that it is necessary to repent of their sins, and to receive a remission of their sins by obedience to that law by which sins are remitted, the law of baptism, and it is not sufficient to have their sins remitted but they must re-ceive the gift of the Holy Ghost. While the majority of people think that there is no law governing the bestowal of the Holy Ghost, the Latter-day Saints think that comes by the laying on of hands, as it was done in the days of Christ. But there are other laws, for instance the law of gathering, and in obedience to that law the Saints have gathered to these valleys from the var-ous parts of the world. God has not only established these laws, but He has placed in the Church, living oracles to whom He reveals His will. There is no revelation in the Book of Mormon regarding the building of temples, although there are some allusions to it. There is no law in the Book of Mormon or Bible, commanding the Saints to gather to these valleys. On what then do the Saints base their action? Why, on the present revelations

President Cannon spoke of the law of tithing at some length, and stated that it was just as necessary for the Saints to observe that law, as the law of bap-tism, or any other law in the Church. The speaker said that he expected to see the Latter-day Saints some day the see the Latter-day saints some day the richest people in the world, as a consequence of their obedience to this law. It has become almost a truism in the Church that those who have obeyed

Church that those who have obeyed this law, have been prospered.

There are other things that demand attention, such as the condition of society. Can a reflecting man, he asked, be satisfied with the great wealth of one class and the poverty of another? There are crying wrongs, that cry to heaven for redress and as a people the Latter-day Saints have a mission to perform, in putting down these wrongs. Not by violence but by a system that God has revealed that shall equalize the wealth of the world, so the riches of the world shall be equally distributed. The law of tilthing is a preparatory law, and it is ridiculous for some to say that they wish the United Order would that they wish the United Order would be established, when they are not will-ing to obey as simple a law as tithing. It is a just law, for it falls equally up-It is a just law, for it falls equally up-on the rich and the poor, and is not 'heavy upon any. If a man has no faith in this law, he may as well say that he has no faith in baptism, in the laying on of hands or any other law that God has revealed. We are told that there is a difference in the reward that shall come to mankind, and these differ-

There are some who have faith enough to be baptized and have hands laid upon them, but they have not faith enough to obey the law of tithing. SWINDLER CAUCHT'AT LAST Winds Up at Cheyenne and is Arrested by Marshal Tobin.

The Man is H. C. Luhr, who Repre sents Himself as a Lieutenant of the United States Army.

Last evening Chief of Police Hilton received word from Cheyenne that City Marshal John Tobin had arrested H. C. Luhr, a young man who has been traveling through the West leaving a 'crooked" trail behind him.

The information caused Chief Hilton and others to rejoice exceedingly. Little over a month ago there walked into the lobby of the Kenyon a dashing looking young man about 25 years of age, attired in the uniform of a U.S. A. lieutenant, and registered as the While here he swindled Walker Bros. and Cannon & Sons out of two or three hundred dollars by passing worthless

Before coming here Luhr worked off bad checks at Denver and then went to San Francisco where he worked the same tricks. Besides being arrested on the charge of obtaining money under false pre tenses he will be turned over to the federal authorities to answer for using the United States mails to defraud, and representing himself to be an officer of the United States.

MEETING OF DAIRYMEN.

Seventh Annual Convention to be Held in This City.

The seventh annual convention of the Utah Dairymen's association will be held on the 5th and 6th of April (conference week), in Salt Lake City. This is the seventh year since the organization of the association, and we wish to make this the best meeting we have so far held. To this end we have prepared a most excellent program, which we trust will draw out much prac-tical discussion of the problems that affect the dairymen and the butter and cheese-maker. In addition to the program we expect to have an exhibition of butter and cheese, and to draw out entries on this point the dairymen of the State is being put up for competition. Over $250 in special prizes and cash is offered to our best butter and cheese-makers. In this exhibit our best butter-maker has a chance of winning nearly $100 in prizes, a premium that ought to draw a host of mpetitors.

The value of the exhibit will not con-sist alone of the prizes that may be won. The association has engaged the services of Mr. F. A. Leighton of New Hampton, Ia., an expert judge, and late professor of dairying at the Iowa Agricultural college, to pass upon our product, and afterwards to give a critcal analysis of the results of his scor-ing. No butter and cheess-maker in the State can afford to miss this oppor-tunity of learning the good and bad qualities of dairy products.

We may also have other eastern visitors. Mr. E. Sudendorf, secretary of the National Butter-makers' association which lately had such a successful meeting in Lincoln, Neb., in a recent letter, said he would probably be at the meeting in Salt Lake. Mr. Sudendorf has organized the largest dairy conventions ever called together. In the recent meeting in Lincoln, Neb., thousands of butter-makers were on hand from many central and eastern States, and between $4,000 and $5,000 were distributed in prizes. Mr. Suden-dorf will undoubtedly have something interesting to tell us. Programs giv-ing all information as to the meeting and exhibit will be sent out in a few

WAS DROWNED IN SANITARIUM

Oscar F. Slade Loses His Life in a Bathing Pool.

WAS UNABLE TO STRUGGLE.

Sank Quietly in Four Feet of Water-Was Probable Victim of Heart Failure-Under Water Only a Minute.

Oscar F. Slade, a bartender, was drowned in the Sanltarium last night about 10 o'clock. It was a most astonishing occurrence, because Slade was not only an expert swimmer, but he sank in the water where it was only about four feet deep, but it is supposed that the unfortunate than was overcome by heart failure or heat.

Slade entered the pool with his friend, W. L. Harlow, a painter, and when they had been in the water but a few moments, the latter proposed going to the sweat room, and taking it for granted that his companion had acceded to the proposition, got up on the side and walked to the steam room. Slade however, did not follow, and Harlow Slade, after calling to his companion several times to hurry up, came out, to be horrified with the sight of the limp body of his friend being dragged out of the water on the opposite side of

Some of the bathers state that Slade apparently had intended to follow his companion to the steam-bath, but had companion to the steam-bath, but had proceeded but a few steps when, without a sign of distress, he slowly sank underneath the water. Those in the pool did not realize that Slade had lost his strength or perhaps his consciousness, and felt no alarm, until he had been under the water over a minute, when several bathers went to the place where he sank, and found his body lying prone upon the bottom of the pool. He was taken from the water, and He was taken from the water, and Dr. Root was quickly called, but the action of the heart had ceased before he got there. Nevertheless, the doctor worked faithfully for over an hour, but all his efforts to revive the drowned man were futile.

Slade was raised in Salt Lake, and is well known here. His parents live at 240 south Fifth East, who received the sad news this morning from the lips of Captain Paul, the deceased's brother-

The young man's father is quite aged, and is in very poor health, and for that reason he was not told last night of his son's death. Slade has been employed as bartender at Nystrom's saloon on First South street, and later at Jacob Alt's. He was 39 years old, and was unmarried. HENRY DINWOODEY BACK.

He Spent Five Weeks in Mexico Recuperating and Sight Seeing. Henry Dinwoodey, head of the Dinwoodey Furniture company, is at home again, after an absence of five weeks spent in a delightful tour through Old Mexico. The greater part of the time he passed in the city of Mexico, and his entire appearance shows how much he was benefited by the trip. In conversation with a "News" representative today he said: "I only heard from home once or twice, I wrote few letters, and in fact almost forgot that there was such a thing in existence as business cares. I feel immensely improved for the trip. The City of Mexico is a wonderful place, how wonderful one can gain no idea of, without seeing it. It is teeming with activity, new enterprises are springing up on every hand, most of them conducted by American capital. Americans run the railroads, street cars and American capital is now putting in an immense sewerage sys-tem. The climate is delightful, and the scene of an evening there, people of leisure drive out in their fash-ionable turn outs is an amazing one. I do not exaggerate when I say that there is a stream of elegant equipages, horses and carriages each evening that would reach from Jordan River to Fort Douglas. The great amusement of the Mexican people is of course their bull fights. I attended several of them and the concourse of people was beyond anything I ever saw together. The bull fights are conducted in a great circular space very much on the order of the bicycle track at the Salt Palace, only they are much larger, and of course there is no track, all the center being the arena in which the bulls are slaughtered. I saw several bulls killed and saw the bulls in turn kill several horses. They were not very valuable stock, however, mostly Mexican cayuses. It was a blood thirsty sport, but the Mexicans enjoyed it immensely. The prices of admission ranged from $2 to $4 in Mexican money, so there must have been an immense lot of money made."

HE LOST HIS WIFE.

Willie Winter Reports a Strange Occurrance to the Police.

A strange looking individual hesitatingly shuffled into police headquarters this morning and with mysterious air eaid: "Say, I have lost my wife; have you seen her?"

Receiving a reply in the negative he remarked: "That is too bad; that is too bad."

"Is your wife silly?" inquired an offi-cer. "Ye-s, I gu-ess she mus-t be." The man said his name was Winter, and that his wife's name was winter, and that his wife's name is Emma Winter. She left No. 263 south Fifth West last evening. Winter said his wife was nineteen years of age and wore a blue dress and brown cape. He thought that perhaps his wife had left him, which theory is believed to be cor-
